THE HUTTONS OF OFFHAM

GEORGE HUTTON =
of Offham

THE HUTTONS OF OFFHAM

(1) GEORGE HUTTON. b. 1679; m. apparently fairly late in life as his son George (2) was born in 1723 or 1734; d. 1772 and bd. at Offham, Kent. Supposed to be descended from the Family of Hutton of Hutton Hall, near Penrith, Cumberland, but the connection is very doubtful. He is said to have left Cumberland with £80,000, which would have been an enormous sum of money in those days, and it is more probable that it was £8000 or £800, and the extra 'o' or 'oo' have been added since. He settled at Offham and bought property at Peckham Rye.

There is no doubt about his existence, as was shown by the Parish Registers of Offham, which were investigated by F. R. C. Hutton (42), but there is no definite proof of his descent from the Hutton Hall Family. According to the pedigree drawn up by R. R. Hutton (18) (based probably on previous family records) he was supposed to be the third son of Anthony Hutton of Hutton Hall, b. 1647. In the pedigree compiled by Mr. Henry Curtis, this son George does not appear, and several authorities state that Dr. Addison Hutton (1706–1746) (George Hutton would have been his uncle) was the last male heir of the Hutton Hall Family.

(See "Notes on Various Families named Hutton.")

(2) HUTTON, GEORGE, s. of G. Hutton (1). b. 1723 or 1734; m. Rhoda; 3 children (4, 6, 8); d. 1802 or 1813 and bd. at Offham.

(3) RHODA, wife of G. Hutton (2). Nothing known of her save that she died in 1802 and was bd. on Oct. 24, 1802 at Offham. J. A. Hutton (47) has an official copy of the burial certificate dated Dec. 30, 1878.

(4) HUTTON, WILLIAM BERNARD, s. of George Hutton (2). b. 1760; m. Eleanor Calvert (5), 6 children (9, 10, 12, 14, 15, 16); d. 1822 and bd. at Aldgate. He was in the business of Messrs. Camden & Calvert trading with West Africa. His wife may have been the dr. of the head of the firm, and probably he took over the business and founded the firm of W. B. Hutton & Sons, of 25 Watling Street, London. (See The Firm of Hutton.) J. A. Hutton (47) has a document dated Oct. 30, 1874, 1784 "Invoice of goods ship'd on board the Venus, Wm. Buncombe Master, for Africa for Sale & Return on Acct. of Messrs. Camden & Calvert, of London, Owners of the said ship consigned to the said Capt. Wm. Buncombe." This document contains a list of the cargo—goods for sale or barter in West Africa—and including, amongst other items, money for the purchase of 10 slaves, probably to be employed as domestic servants in England.

(5) CALVERT, ELEANOR, w. of W. B. Hutton (4). d. 1844; bd. at Aldgate; probably a relation of Mr. Calvert of Camden & Calvert. Her brother was probably the original of the portrait in Trinity House uniform ("Old Half-moons") in the possession of R. W. Hutton (49). J. A. Hutton (47) has a copy which may have been painted by W. M. Hutton (10) and J. M. Hewat (69) has another different painting.

(6) HUTTON, ELIZABETH, first dr. of G. Hutton (2). b. 1761 Offham; m. Aug. 29, 1812, Thomas Broad of Offham; d. and bd. at Offham March 5, 1853, aged 102 years and 6 days. She is certainly the longest lived Hutton of whom we have any records, in a family which is not renowned for its longevity. J. A. Hutton (47) has official copies of her marriage and burial certificates dated Dec. 30, 1878. These were obtained by F. R. C. Hutton (42) who investigated all the Church Records at Offham. D. Hutton (88) has a cup which was given to her father by the Rev. C. F. Fraser, Rector of Offham, to whom it was given by Elizabeth Broad (née Hutton) (6). She had the cup from her father G. Hutton (2), who died at Offham, aged 79 years and who said it belonged to his father. This would make the date of the cup about 1700.

(7) BROAD, THOMAS. Husband of E. Hutton (6); d. 1833 and bd. at Offham.

(8) HUTTON, ESTHER, second dr. of G. Hutton (2); b. 1768; d. 1850. Apparently this is all that is known of her. She too lived to a ripe old age, 82 years.

(9) HUTTON, ANTHONY CALVERT. First s. of W. B. Hutton (4). Probably in the firm of W. B. Hutton & Sons, as he died at Accra, Gold Coast, on a trip to West Africa.

(10) HUTTON, WILLIAM MACINTOSH. Second s. of W. B. Hutton (4). b. Nov. 15, 1797; m. Sep. 9, 1824, at Putney to Elizabeth Chapman; 9 children (17, 18, 20, 24, 26, 27, 28, 31, 32); d. Jan. 18, 1852; bd. Nunehead Cemetery; lived for some time at "The Elms", Clapham Common, of which there is a water-colour sketch dated 1857, drawn by his dr. Antoinette Hutton (32).

He continued the firm of W. B. Hutton & Sons in partnership with his brother R. Hutton (12). J. A. Hutton (47) has two letters of his dated 1848, and written to his son J. F. Hutton (20), who had been sent to Manchester to look after the branch of the firm in that town. When he died he was supposed to be worth £100,000, but when the business came to be realised there was very little left over. He was something of an artist. J. A. Hutton (47) has two copies of Reynolds' pictures in the National Gallery painted by him. Possibly he painted the copy of the Calvert portrait mentioned above (E. Calvert 5). It looks as if the 'artistic temperament' which has shown itself in later generations dates some way back. D. Hutton (88) has a small silver miniature artist's palette presented to him as a prize for drawing, inscribed "Wm. Macintosh Hutton, premium for drawing at Mr. Chapman's Academy, Wandsworth, Surry (sic), Christmas 1809, H. Ashby, Master." It is a question whether "Mr. Chapman" was related to W. M. H.'s wife. "H. Ashby" was known to the Bennett Family of Maddington, when they originally came from Merton. (See The Bennett Family.) G. Hutton (86) has an ivory miniature of W. M. H. and J. A. Hutton (47) has small portraits of him and his wife painted by Frost and also a small secretaire which belonged to him. C. F. Hutton (73) on his death passed on to P. C. Hutton (123) a pair of fob seals comprising the Hutton crest and coat of arms and the initials W. M. H. It is a question whether the Family have any right to use them in view of the doubtful connection with the Huttons of Hutton Hall, Cumberland. J. A. Hutton (47) has a notice asking W. M. H. to attend a Meeting of the Select Committee on West Africa signed by Lord Sandon and dated July 1, 1842. It was addressed by mistake to W. B. H. who died in 1822.

(11) CHAPMAN, ELIZABETH. w. of W. M. Hutton (10); b. April 16, 1797; d. April 23, 1865; bd. Brighton Cemetery; dr. of James Chapman, a schoolmaster of Wandsworth. Her mother, Mary, was dr. of Thomas Bennett, great-grandfather of Canon Frederick Bennett of Maddington, whose daughters married J. F. Hutton (20) and A. Hutton (28). (See The Bennett Family for the double connection between the two families.) G. Hutton (34) has a print of her. Her brother James was the first Bishop of Colombo. Her sister Sarah, d. 1879, married Marmaduke Rossiter. She had another sister Lydia who was rather a character (Aunt Lydia).

(12) HUTTON, ROBERT. Third s. of W. B. Hutton (4); m. Catharine Richards; was in the firm of W. B. Hutton & Sons, but died before his brother W. M. H. (10), i.e. about 1851. J. A. H. (47) has a letter of his written to his nephew (J. F. H.) when the latter had been sent to the Manchester branch of the firm.

(13) RICHARDS, CATHARINE. Wife of R. Hutton (12).

(14) HUTTON, JAMES. Fourth s. of W. B. Hutton (4); d. unmarried 1843 or 1845.

(15) HUTTON, MARY ANN. First dr. of W. B. Hutton (4); d. unmarried 1839.

(16) HUTTON, ELEANOR. Second dr. of W. B. Hutton (4).

(17) HUTTON, WILLIAM CHAPMAN. First s. of W. M. Hutton (10); b. June 17, 1825; unmarried; entered the East India Company's Military Service; fell overboard from s.s. Bentinck at Aden on Dec. 29, 1848, and was eaten by sharks; his right forearm was recovered and a signet ring that was on it came into the possession of W. C. Hutton (71). J. A. Hutton (47) has his sword and regimental badge.

(18) HUTTON, ROBERT ROSSITER. Second s. of W. M. Hutton (10); b. June 17, 1825 (twin of W. C. H., 17), m. July 8, 1851, to Sybil Harriet Snell at St. Michael's, Chester Square, Pimlico; six children (33, 35, 36, 37, 39, 41); ed. Eton and Oxford; was head of the school at Eton and was the last ensign to carry the "Flag ad Montem". (See letter from his son C. A. Hutton (37) to The Times, June 20 1935. C. A. H. presented the Flag to Eton College in 1935.) Took Holy Orders and was for many years Rector of Chipping Barnet, Herts.; d. Nov. 5, 1887, at Chipping Barnet; bd. Gt. Northern Cemetery, Colney Hatch.

(19) SNELL, SYBIL HARRIET. Wife of R. R. Hutton (18); b. April 26, 1827, at Albemarle Street, London; m. 1851; d. July 8, 1879, at Chipping Barnet; bd. Gt. Northern Cemetery, Colney Hatch.

(20) HUTTON, JAMES FREDERICK. Third s. of W. M. Hutton (10); b. Nov. 25, 1826, at Clapham; m. 1855 (1) Catharine Mary Jones at Holywell, North Wales; six children (42, 44, 45, 46, 47, 49); m. (2) 1868 at Maddington to Edith Ellen Bennett; n. i.; m. (3); 1872 to Annie Thornton, five children (51, 53, 55, 57, 58); lived at Bowdon, Cheshire; Arden House, Ashley, Cheshire; Victoria Park, Rusholme, Manchester; d. March 1, 1890, at Cairo;

bd. Birch Church, Rusholme. About 1848 he went to Manchester to superintend the branch of W. B. Hutton & Sons in that city; after his father's death in 1851 he made two voyages to West Africa (1852 and 1853) to wind up the affairs of the firm. Afterwards he recommenced business in Manchester as James F. Hutton & Co. in partnership with his brother Anthony (28); Director of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce 1877-90, President 1884-5; first M.P. for North Manchester; one of the Founders of the Manchester Geographical Society; Consul for Belgium in Manchester; Emin Pasha Relief Committee; Organising Committee of the Imperial Institute; one of the Founders (with Sir William MacKinnon) of the British East Africa Company, which saved that part of Africa for Britain; also a Director of the Royal Niger Company which saved Nigeria in the same way; took an active part with his friend Sir Henry Morton Stanley in the founding of the Congo Free State; Member of the Royal Geographical Society; took a great interest in all travellers, especially those who had been making explorations in Africa, and entertained many of them at his house in Victoria Park; the late Sir Henry Morton Stanley was a great personal friend of his; he was a great collector of pictures and objets d'art and took great interest in the Manchester Picture Gallery, the old Royal Institution, and one of those who got it opened to the public on Sundays. He took an active part in the Exhibition held there in 1873; like other members of the family he was fond of sketching; some of his West African drawings are at the office of James F. Hutton & Co., one of which is a large painting of the review of the Marines and Native Allies during the Ashanti War. There are also a number of drawings of his at the office copied from some old coloured engravings of Trading Centres in West Africa, probably done by him when he was a boy; J. A. H. (47) has a little sketch-book of his dated 1841, also the last letter he ever wrote, dated Jan. 26, 1890, shortly before his death in Cairo. It was perhaps fitting that, having been connected with Africa during the whole of his life, he should end his days in that continent.

(21) JONES, CATHARINE MARY. Wife of J. F. Hutton (20), eldest dr. of John Roger Jones, of Pen-y-pylle, Holywell, North Wales; b. 1824 Holywell; m. 1855; d. 1865, Arden House, Ashley; bd. St. Margaret's, Bowdon, Cheshire.

(22) BENNETT, EDITH ELLEN. Second wife of J. F. Hutton (20); dr. of Canon Frederick Bennett of Maddington, Wiltshire; sister of M. L. Bennett (30); b. Jan. 20, 1848, at Maddington; m. 1868; d. Sep. 1871; bd. Birch Church.

(23) THORNTON, ANNIE. Third wife of J. F. Hutton (20); 2nd dr. of Wm. Thornton, of Lancaster; b. 1848; m. 1872; d. 1892 at Rusholme; bd. Birch Church.

(24) HUTTON, THOMAS CALVERT. Fourth s. of W. M. Hutton (10); b. June 9, 1828; ed. King's College, London; m. Jan. 12, 1864, Rosina Maria Capper (25) in Ceylon; seven children (59, 60, 61, 63, 64, 65, 66); d. March 29, 1877; bd. Tower Hamlets Cemetery; was for a short time with W. B. Hutton & Sons, but was never a partner; was a chartered accountant; lived for some years in Ceylon until 1865; was in Bathurst, West Africa, from 1869 for about three years.

(25) CAPPER, ROSINA MARIA. Wife of T. C. Hutton (24); b. Aug. 5, 1844; m. Jan. 12, 1864, at Colombo, Ceylon; d. Jan. 25, 1896;

bd. Sighthill Cemetery, Glasgow; dr. of John Capper, who was for some years editor and proprietor of the Ceylon Times; a friend of Charles Dickens and wrote with him in Household Words, and also wrote parts of Little Dorrit; was in Ceylon 1837–87 and wrote several books about Ceylon.

(26) HUTTON, HENRY. Fifth s. of W. M. Hutton (10); b. Jan. 13, 1830; d. Feb. 1930; bd. Kennington.

(27) HUTTON, ELIZABETH. First dr. of W. M. Hutton (10); b. May 3, 1831; chr. St. Mark's, Kennington; d. May 31, 1886, at Brighton; bd. Brighton Cemetery; was an invalid all her life.

(28) HUTTON, ANTHONY. Sixth s. of W. M. Hutton (10); b. Feb. 3, 1833; ed. Eton; m. (1) 1860 Margaret Coats, three children (67, 69, 71); m. (2) Sept. 4, 1867, at Maddington, Maria Louisa Bennett; two children (73, 76); lived at Malvern Lodge, Oxton, Cheshire; Court Garden, Marlow, Bucks.; Sliema, Malta; d. April 27, 1898, in Malta; bd. Sliema; joined his brother J. F. Hutton (20) in James F. Hutton & Co. in Manchester, afterwards opened a branch in Liverpool which, after dissolution of partnership, was carried on by him under the name of Hutton & Co.; he was a great rowing man, won the Diamond Sculls and started the Nemesis Rowing Club in Manchester about 1852, which is still in existence (1939); like his brother he was a collector of objets d'art.

(29) COATS, MARGARET. First w. of A. Hutton (28); b. Feb. 1, 1836, at Paisley; m. October 1860 at Paisley; d. June 6, 1865, Isle of Man; bd. Flaybrick Cemetery, Birkenhead; dr. of Sir Peter Coats (d. March 9, 1890, Algiers) of Paisley and Gloranna his wife; Sir Peter was the second of ten brothers, of whom James, himself and Thomas started the famous Thread Mills at Ferguslie, Paisley, which business has spread all over the world; his brother Andrew started and built up the American branch; he refused a baronetcy and so also did his brother Thomas, but he accepted a knighthood. They were much beloved in their native city of Paisley, and their statues were erected in a prominent position there.

(30) BENNETT, MARIA LOUISA, dr. of Canon Bennett of Maddington, Wilts.; sister of E. E. Bennett (25), second wife of A. Hutton (28); b. July 20, 1846; chr. Maddington Church; m. September 1867, Maddington; d. Dec. 20, 1920; bd. at Littleham, near Exmouth.

(31) HUTTON, MARMADUKE. Seventh s. of W. M. Hutton (10); b. Jan. 4, 1835, Clapham; d. June 5, 1835; bd. Kennington.

(32) HUTTON, ANTOINETTE ELEANOR (Auntie Tot). Second dr. of W. M. Hutton (10); b. May 26, 1836, Clapham; d. unmarried Feb. 3, 1911, Buxted, Sussex; bd. Buxted; a nun; for many years Mother Superior of St. Mary's Home, Brighton, and at Buxted; also fond of drawing; she was the only one of the children of W. M. Hutton who reached the age of 70.

THE FIRM OF HUTTON

THE original firm was probably Camden & Calvert, West African merchants, of London. This firm was in existence in 1784 as shown by the old document in the possession of J. A. Hutton (47), as follows:

London, 30th Oct. 1784.

INVOICE OF GOODS Shipd. on board the Venus Wm. Buncome Master for Africa for Sale and Return on Acct. & Risk of Messrs. Camden & Calvert of London Owners of the said ship Consigned to the said Capt. Wm. Buncome.

William Bernard Hutton (b. 1760, d. 1822) (4) married Eleanor Calvert (5) and in all probability he took over or succeeded to the old firm of Camden & Calvert. Possibly he married his employer's daughter, though there is no evidence that she was related to the Calvert of Camden & Calvert. The business was carried on at 25 Watling Street, London, under the name of W. B. Hutton & Sons.

W.B.H. was succeeded by his sons William Macintosh H. (b. 1795, d. 1852) (6) and Robert H. (12) who died before his elder brother. The eldest son, Anthony Calvert H. (9), was possibly in the business, for he died at Accra in West Africa. A branch had been opened in Manchester for the manufacture and purchase of cotton goods prior to 1848, as shown by letters written to James Frederick H. (b. 1826, d. 1890, 3rd son of W.M.H.) by W.M.H. and R.H. dated January and February 1848. J.F.H., who was then only 22, had been sent down to Manchester to take charge of the branch in that town. The branch had been carried on under the name of Hind & Co., but it was then changed to Josh. Reeve & Co. One of the employees there was William Akhurst, whose sons and also a grandson afterwards worked for the firm. Sydney Keymer, of Fallows & Keymer of Manchester, informed James Arthur H. (grandson of W.M.H.) that his firm used to do business with W.B.H. & Sons in the early part of the 19th century or even at the end of the 18th century.

In addition to the offices in London and Manchester the firm had several factories on the West Coast of Africa and Gothic House at Cape Coast, which is now Government House, was one of their principal offices.

W.M.H., who was supposed to be worth £100,000 which was an immense fortune in those days, died in 1851, and there is no definite information as to how the firm came to be wound up. Presumably the executors either could not or would not carry on the business, and J.F.H. paid two visits to Africa in 1852 and 1853 to collect debts and wind up affairs. The final result was that there was very little left over after paying the creditors.

J.F.H.'s diaries of his two visits are still in existence. He sailed on the first occasion from Liverpool on March 1st 1852 in the s.s. Emerald, a screw steamer which depended largely on sails. The ship was very badly found and the Captain developed drunkenness and died on the voyage home and was buried at sea. Very soon after leaving Liverpool the ship started leaking badly and later on there were fears that she would sink. They eventually reached Madeira on March 14th, but were not able to leave before March 24th after the repairs had been completed.

On his second visit he sailed from Falmouth on January 29th 1853 in the s.s. Faith, which belonged to the African Steamship Co. According to a Sailing-list of this company, dated November 1st 1852, their fleet consisted of five steamers, Forerunner 400 tons, Faith 900 tons, Hope 900 tons, Charity 1000 tons and Northern Light 1000 tons. When he was at Cape Coast J.F.H. went with the Governor to inspect the camp of the army, which was being got together to proceed against the King of Ashanti.

Owing to his father's death and the winding up of the old firm, J.F.H., instead of coming into a fortune, had to make a fresh start in life, and some time in the early 1850's he commenced business in Manchester together with his younger brother Anthony H. (b. 1833, d. 1898) at 29 Dale Street under the name of James F. Hutton & Co. Later on A.H. went to Liverpool and opened a branch there. Subsequently this partnership was dissolved, J.F.H. continuing the business in Manchester and A.H. taking over the branch in Liverpool under the name of Hutton & Co. Later on A.H. retired and the Liverpool business was carried on by his son William Coats H. (b. 1864, d. 1926) who afterwards retired and handed over the business to his partner Eglen. After the death of Eglen the firm of Hutton & Co. was wound up.

Prior to 1850 W.B.H. & Sons had carried on a manufacturing business in Manchester, buying yarns and sending them out to hand-loom weavers, of which there were then a considerable number in the neighbouring district. This part of the business was continued by James F. Hutton & Co. under the management of William Akhurst, but it came to an end about 1880 owing partly to the competition of power looms and partly to the fact that the old hand-loom weavers were dying out, and there were no new ones to take their place.

In the early 1870's the business was extended by renting the Cressbrook Cotton Weaving Mills in Monsal Dale, Derbyshire, under the management of George, the son of William Akhurst. About 1880 the lease was given up and another weaving shed was purchased in Bradford, Manchester, and the business there was carried on under the name of the African Mills Co., Ltd.

Thomas Calvert H. (b. 1828, d. 1877, the fourth son of W.M.H.) was at one time in the business of W.B.H. & Sons. There is no information as to whether he had any connection with J.F.H. & Co., but he was never a partner. He died in 1877. His son, John H., went to West Africa for another firm and died there.

George James H. (b. 1856, d. 1892, the third son of Rev. Robert Rossiter H. b. 1825, d. 1887, who was the elder brother of J.F.H.) entered the business 1872. He was the first of the fourth (possibly the fifth) generation in this firm which has now (1939) been connected with the East and West African trade for over 150 years.

Horace Heys H. (b. 1860, d. 1888, the third son of J.F.H.) came to the business about 1879 for a short time. He afterwards went to Natal and then to Zanzibar, and returned from there with the Prime Minister Peera Dewjee in the Sultan's private steamer. J.F.H. & Co. did quite a considerable business with Peera Dewjee afterwards until the failure of the important firm of Roux de Fraissinet of Marseilles and East Africa disorganized the whole of the Zanzibar trade. Zanzibar was then the entrepôt for the whole of the business in the adjoining part of East Africa. Later on H.H.H. went to Bathurst River, Gambia, to look after the old business of Thomas Brown & Co., which had been left by Mr. Brown to J.F.H. and A.H. The whole of this property was subsequently sold to Elder Dempster & Co., the owners of the West African steamers.

In 1881 James Arthur H. (b. 1862, the fourth son of J.F.H.) entered the business and is still (1939) the Chairman of the Company and his younger brother Reginald William H. (b. 1864) also joined the firm in 1889.

In 1903 Sydney Frederick H. (b. 1884, d. 1916, son of Rev. Frederick Robert Chapman H., b. 1856, d. 1926, the eldest son of J.F.H.) came to the business, making the fifth (possibly the sixth) generation connected with the African trade. He retired in 1909, was ordained and, when the Great War broke out, applied for an Army Chaplaincy. On this being refused he enlisted as a private soldier and was killed at the Battle of the Somme in 1916.

In 1925 Wilfred James (b. 1906, the second son of Eustace H. (b. 1873) sixth son of J.F.H.) entered the business, but he left in 1927 as the climate of Manchester did not suit his health. That was the end of the fifth generation in the business.

Formerly the Company did a considerable direct business with native merchants both in East and West Africa, but after the dissolution of partnership between J.F.H. and A.H., the latter took over this side of the business and James F. Hutton & Co. retained the business with European firms, and later on restricted it to firms whose head offices were situated in Europe.

After the death of J.F.H. the firm was made into a limited company under the title of James F. Hutton & Co., Ltd. J.A.H. was Chairman and R.W.H. one of the Directors, and they both still continue in the business. Later on the African Mills were sold to John Higham, of Manchester, and he sold them afterwards to Fallows and Keymer.

One remarkable fact in connection with this old business is that very few of the employees leave the firm and there are several records of very long periods of service—four of 50 years and over and two even longer—Charles Akhurst 63 and Tom Fitzgerald 65 years, although previously the Company had offered them pensions if they retired. Also three families have been connected with the firm for three generations, the Akhursts, the Gallés and the Marsdens.

NOTES ON VARIOUS FAMILIES NAMED HUTTON
COMPILED BY HENRY CURTIS, F.R.C.S.

THE cunabula gentis, or “cradle of the race”, of the Huttons appears to have been Cumberland, spreading thence to Westmoreland, Yorkshire, Durham and Lincoln, and appearing at an early period in London. Thus Francis Hutton of London m. Mary only dr. of Cuthbert Fetherston, who d. Dec. 1615; she was apparently b. circa 1580-3. (Wotton's Baronetage, 1741, Vol. III, p. 186.)

“About the time of Henry VII (1485-1509), it appears from deeds and other records, that the Huttons of Overthwaite, Co. Westmoreland, and the Huttons of Goldsborough, in Yorks., branched from the ancient family of Hutton of Hutton Hall, Penrith, Co. Cumberland, which derived from Adam de Hoton, living temp. Edward I.” (Burke's Landed Gentry, 1846.)

The following pedigree of the Huttons of Hutton Hall, in Penrith, is given in W. Hutchinson's History of Cumberland, Vol. I, pub. 1794. He says: “Another manor is that of the Huttons, of Hutton Hall, in Penrith, Co. Cumberland, a family lately become extinct, Mr. Gasgarth now (1794) possesses the mansion.”

Sandford's MS. “History of Cumberland” says: “I have heard that they could show evidence of a Squire Hutton then at Hutton John before King Edward-the-Confessor (1042-1066).”

“An early member of the family is Adam de Houton, of Oxford, clerk, who in 1337 was in trouble for having wounded John le Blake, of Tadyngton. At Oxford he took the degree of Doctor of Laws. Entering Holy Orders he apparently became one of the Royal Clerks. Sometime after 1354, he was appointed Precentor of St. Davids; in 1361 he was appointed Lord Chancellor of England, and Bishop of St. Davids, being consecrated Jan. 1362. His name is variously spelt Houghton or Houtone. He was born at Caerforwg, in the parish of Whitchurch, in St. Davids, but his name clearly shows that his family was of English or Norman origin. Foss's conjecture that he was the son of John de Houghton, Baron of the Exchequer in 1347, seems untenable." (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

He died in 1389.

In the pedigree of Hutton of Hutton Hall, the first member to be mentioned is Adam, temp. K. Edward I (1272–1307); it is possible therefore that the Bishop of St. Davids was a descendant.

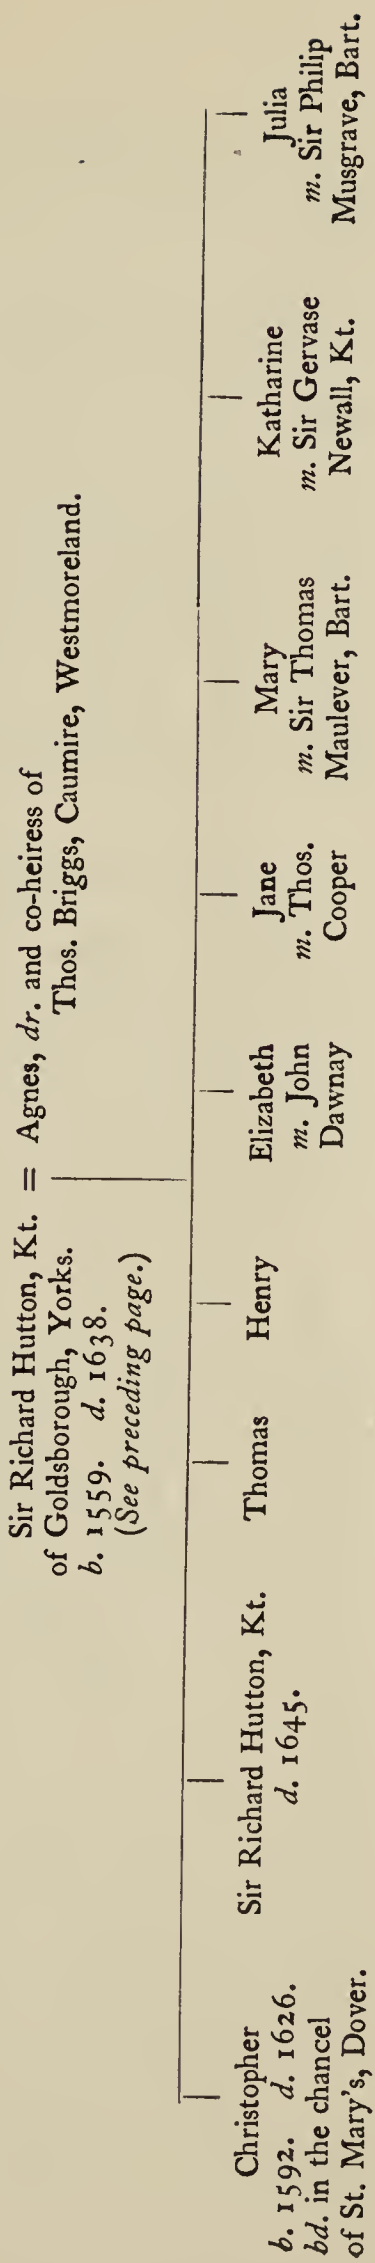

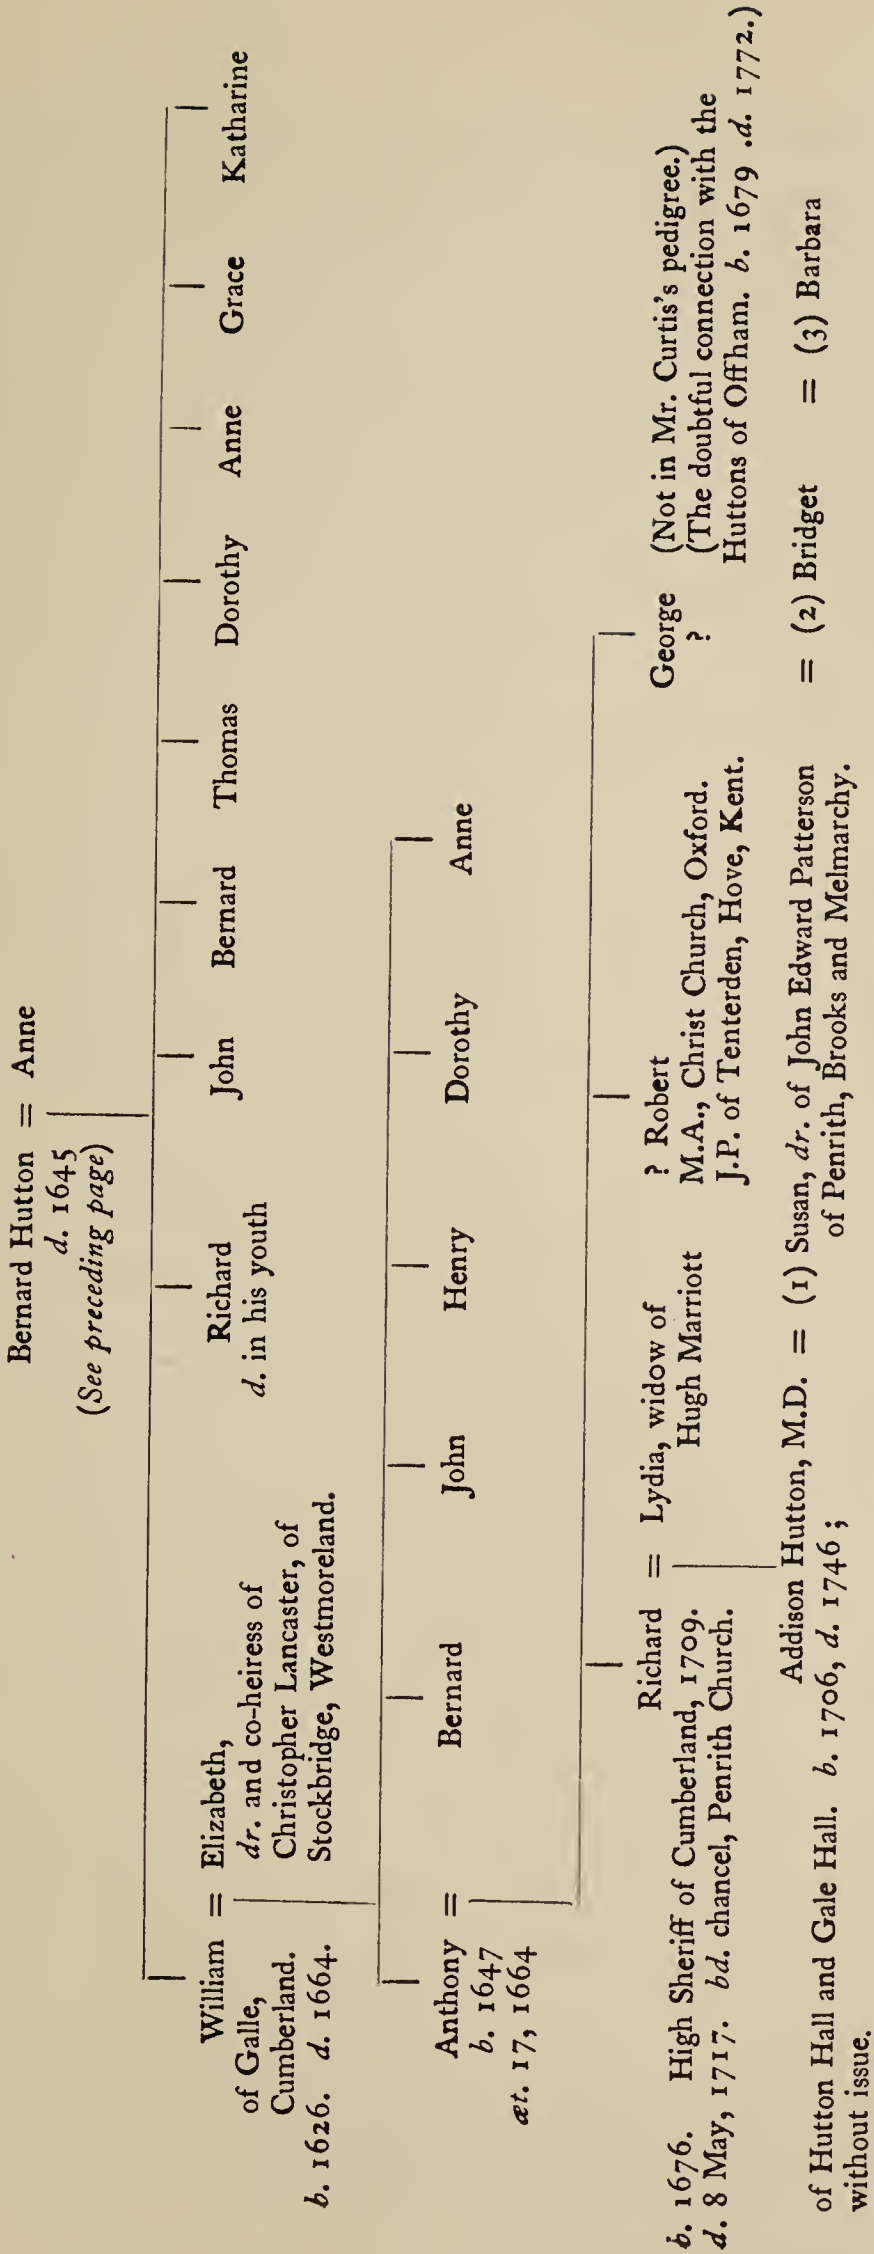

There seem to be various spellings of the name Hutton—Hotton, Hotone, Houtone, Houghton, Hoghton, etc. See Notes under "Hutton-in-the-Forest".

THE HUTTONS
OF

THE HUTTONS OF HUTTON HALL

DR. ADDISON HUTTON (see p. 99), of Hutton Hall and Gale Hall, b. 1706, d. 1742, without issue; Matric. Queen's Coll., Oxford, 26 Nov. 1724, aged 18; B.A. 1731; M.A. 4 July 1732; B.Med. 8 July 1734; D.Med. 8 July 1737; F.R.C.P. 1738; Physician to St. George's Hospital, London, 1736 until his death 30 March 1742. Hutton Hall then passed to Mr. Galgarth and subsequently to Lord Lonsdale after being in the Hutton Family from about 1272. Burke's Landed Gentry for 1846 gives date of death as 1745, and speaks of him as "the last male heir of the Huttons of Hutton Hall".

SIR RICHARD HUTTON, son of Anthony (see p. 99), of Goldsborough, W.R. Yorks (near Boroughbridge), Sergeant-at-Law. One of the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas.

His manors of Hooton Paynell, or Paganel, descended to his heir, Sir Richard Hutton.

Born 1559, d. 1638, bd. at St. Dunstan's-in-the-West.

The Dict. Nat. Biog. supplies the further information that Sir Richard Hutton (1561–1639) read Divinity for a time at Jesus Coll., Oxford, but changed his mind and entered Gray's Inn in 1580, being already a member of Staple Inn, in the Hall of which his arms are emblazoned. About this time he was reputed a papist, and was in some danger of arrest. He was called to the Bar at Gray's Inn on the 16th June 1586, and became an "Ancient" there in 1598. He was raised to the Bench by James I who used to style him "His honest Judge". In the great Ship-Money case 1636, he was one of the Judges, Curtis being the other, who gave their judgment against King Charles I (see p. 133).

Hutton was an intimate friend of Matthew Hutton, Archbishop of York, who made him one of the supervisors of his will, and of the Archbishop's son, Sir Timothy Hutton, whose legal adviser he was. He died in Serjeants' Inn, 26 Feb. 1638/9, and was buried in St. Dunstan's-in-the-West.

The family of Hutton-Riddell, of Carlton-on-Trent, Newark, Notts., and also of Muselee, Hawick, Roxburghshire, are descended from Sir Richard Hutton, the Judge.

SIR RICHARD HUTTON, Kt., his heir, Royalist. Knighted at Windsor, 17 July 1625; d. at Skipton, of wounds received at the Battle of Sherborn, W.R. Yorks., 15 Oct. 1645.

(Probably the Richard Hutton, Esq. of Goldsborough, Co. Yorks., who married Elizabeth, younger daughter of Sir John Wolstenholme, Kt., of London, who was buried at Stanmore in 1670.) (Wotton's Baronetage, Vol. IV, p. 447.)

SIR PHILIP MUSGRAVE, Bart. (husband of Julia, dr. of Sir Richard Hutton, the Judge), of Hartley Castle, Westmoreland. (1609–1678.) Son and heir to Sir Richard Musgrave, K.B., and Bart. (who d. at Naples, 1616), by his wife, Frances, dr. of Philip, Lord Warton.

“Sir Philip was a great military genius and distinguished himself in several battles in the Civil Wars. In 1648, taking Carlisle from the rebels by surprise, he was appointed Governor thereof. He died at his seat at Edenhall, Feb. 7, 1677/8, aged 70, in great honour and esteem, for a wise, loyal and brave man.” (Kimber and Johnson's Baronetage, 1771.)

THE PARISH OF HUTTON-IN-THE-FOREST

*W. Hutchinson's "History of Cumberland." Vol. I, pp. 506-7.
Leath Ward. Parish of Hutton.*

"SO CALLED emphatically, it is probable, from its having been originally a 'Town of huts'. It is bounded by Hesket towards the north and east, and Newton and Skelton towards the south and west.

"The manor of Hoton, as it is written in old writings (which may seem to imply that it was so called from its having been built on a 'how' or hill), was anciently held of the King in capite, by the service of maintaining the paling or fences of the King's forest of Plumpton, and by holding the Royal stirrup whilst the Sovereign mounted his horse in the Castle of Carlisle, and paying yearly into the King's Exchequer at Carlisle 33s 4d by the hands of the Sheriff. (Esch. 5th King Henry VII, 1489.)

"The resident family continued a long time in possession of the manor, and assumed a local name of Hutton in Foresta; for in the reign of King Edward I. (1272-1307), we find one Thomas de Hoton in Foresta, granting lands there.

"In the 16th year of King Edward III. (1327-1377) one Thomas de Hoton, for his services in the Scotch War, was restored to the bailiwick and office of keeping the King's land at Plumpton.

"In the 16th year of King Richard II. (1392) William de Hoton held that office, then styled Forestarius Regis de Landa et Custus Hajae (Haja—a hedge, a fence) de Plumpton, which in the same reign, and in the reign of Henry IV. (1399-1413) were confirmed to him and his heirs. (Esch. 5 King Henry VII. 1489.)

“In the 35th year of King Henry VIII. (1543) William Hutton held this manor in capite, by knight’s service, paying to the King 40s yearly by the hands of the Sheriff of Cumberland.

“FROM the name, implies that it was anciently the possession of the family of Huttons, and for distinction's sake, was called John's to denote the branch of the family that had residence there; though that distinction is not now to be traced to its origin. In the reign of Edward III.,

“WILLIAM DE HUTTON JOHN, held this manor of the barony of Graystock (Inquisition 36, Edward III., 1362) by homage, and the payment of twenty shillings cornage, suit at three weeks' court, witnessman service, and puture of Flascowe foresters.

“CUTHBERT HUTTON dying seized in the 2nd year of Queen Mary (1554), his son, “THOMAS succeeded him, and held with this manor diverse other estates—Hutton Moor, Mellfel, Muremale Amerciaments, lands at Penruddock, Whitbarrow and Studhowe; but he dying without issue, his sisters and co-heiresses became possessed, and “MARY HUTTON marrying Andrew Huddleston, of Farrington in the county of Lancaster, Esq., second son of Sir John Huddleston, of Millum, who resided here, transferred the estate to that family.

(p. 416) “This Mary, sister and heiress of Thomas Hutton, who married Andrew Huddleston, first of Hutton, was educated with the Lady Catharine Parr, and on her marriage with King Henry VIII., (1543) was made one of the Ladies of the Bedchamber.”

OTHER WESTMORELAND HUTTONS

THOMAS HUTTON, son of Thomas Hutton, of Kirby Lonsdale, Westmoreland, entered Sedbergh School between 1730 and 1739, and was admitted to St. John's College, Cambridge, 2 June 1739, aged 20; B.A. 1742; Ordained Deacon 20 May 1744, by the Bishop of Norfolk, in the Chapel of Gonville and Caius College, and licensed to the curacy of Castle Acre, Norfolk. (Sedbergh School Register.)

ROBERT HOWARD HUTTON (1840–1887), bonesetter (son of Robert Hutton), was b. at Soulby, Westmoreland, 26 July 1840. He was a member of a family of farmers who for upwards of two hundred years have resided in the north of England, where they have been bonesetters for the benefit of their neighbours.

Robert's uncle, Richard Hutton, was the first of the family to make bonesetting a profession. He set up in practice in London at Wyndham Place, Crawford Street, London, and died at Gilling Lodge, Watford, on 6 Jan. 1871, aged 70.

The younger Hutton was from 1863 to 1869 at Milnthorpe in Westmoreland, where he farmed land, and, in his leisure time, set bones. About 1869 he came to London, and for some time resided with his Uncle Richard. He then set up for himself, first at 74 Gloucester Place, Portman Square, and afterwards at 36 Queen Anne Street, Cavendish Square. He m. 26 July 1876, Miss Constance Innes, dr. of Charles Leslie, by whom he left one child, Gladys Hutton. On 16 July 1887, at Queen Anne Street a servant gave him some laudanum instead of a black draught. He d. soon afterwards at University College Hospital.

LINEAGE

This family is descended from the Huttons of Priest Hutton, in Lancashire. In the Grant of Arms to the family, dated 1 May 1584, the following assertion is made by Glover, the Herald:

“Ex antiqua Huttonorum familia in Lancastriensi
Palatinatu nobilibus satis parentibus oriundis.”

(Burke's "Landed Gentry".)

“The first Archbishop Hutton's father, also Matthew, was a man of very respectable standing, who lived at Priest Hutton in the Parish of Warton, Co. Lancaster, a parish wherein his ancestors had resided from at least the time of King Stephen (1135–1154). It is almost certain that they were members of the noted family of Hutton of Hutton Hall, Penrith, Co. Cumberland.

“Adam de Hoton, living at that place in the reign of Edward I (1272–1307), appears as one of the witnesses to Walter de Lyndesay's charter of liberties to Warton at this period. Fuller, the church historian, who was an intimate of the first Archbishop Hutton, says that the family was of Hutton Hall, but expresses a doubt as to where the house was situate. As no Hutton Hall has ever been known to exist in the Parish of Warton, the inference is reasonable that the Penrith homestead is implied."

(Romantic Richmondshire, p. 200, by H. Speight, 1897.)

Further evidence perhaps of the acknowledged kinship is afforded by the fact that Sir Richard Hutton, Judge, of the Hutton Hall family was "an intimate friend of Matthew Hutton, Archbishop of York, who made him one of the supervisors of his Will, and of the Archbishop's son, Sir Timothy Hutton, whose legal adviser he was." (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

Harrison affirms that Priest-Hutton took its name from Matthew Hutton, a Priest of the Order of St. Benedict, who resided at Hoton-Juxta-Warton, temp. Henry VI (1422-1471) (three generations before the Archbishop), but as Harrison's pedigrees are notoriously untrustworthy, the statement may be doubted. An inspection of the parish registers at Warton (commencing in 1568) shows that in fact all the entries relating to the Huttons of Warton appear as of Hutton only up to the time of the founding of the school in 1594 by the Prelate, then Bishop of Durham, when the name Priest-Hutton occurs for the first time." (Speight, ibid.)

MATTHEW HUTTON, of Priest Hutton, in the Parish of Warton, m. and had three sons, viz:—

I. EDMUND, of Warton, father of Robert Hutton, D.D., Prebendary of Durham, and Rector of Houghton-le-Spring, ancestor of the Huttons of Houghton-le-Spring, one of whom, the Rev. J. Hutton, of Houghton-le-Spring, appears in the list of Subscribers to Hutchinson's History of Cumberland, pub. 1794.

Luke Hutton (d. 1598), criminal, is stated by Sir John Harrington to have been a younger son of Matthew Hutton, Archbishop of York; but Fuller, whose account is adopted by Thoresby and Hutchinson, asserts with more probability, that he was the son of Robert Hutton, Rector of Houghton-le-Spring, and Prebendary of Durham.

"Luke Hutton, matric. as sizar of Trin. Coll., Camb., in Oct. 1582, left the university without a degree, and took to evil courses. He was 'so valiant that he feared not men nor laws' (Harrington). In 1598, for a robbery committed on St. Luke's day, he was executed at York, the Archbishop magnanimously forbearing to intercede on his behalf.

"Author of Luke Hutton's Repentance, The Black Dogge of Newgate and Luke Hutton's Lamentations which he wrote the day before his death, a broadside ballad (1598)."

(Dict. Nat. Biog.)

Henry Hutton (flourished about 1619), satirical poet, b. in the County of Durham, was a member of the same family as Matthew Hutton, Archbishop of York (1529–1606), and may have belonged to the branch settled at Houghton in Durham.

Rimbault's conjecture that he was the Henry Hutton, of Witton Gilbert, Durham, fifth son of Edward Hutton, B.C.L., Bailiff of Durham, seems unacceptable from the fact that Henry Hutton of Witton Gilbert d. 1671.

The poet was at some time at Oxford, but departed without a degree.

He wrote Follie's Anatomie, or Satyres and Satyricall Epigrams, etc., 1619.

A prefatory poem "To the reader upon the author, his kinsman, by R.H.”, may have been by Ralphe Hutton, surmised to have been a brother, and there is a poetical dedication to Sir Timothy Hutton, of Marske, Yorks., who was son of the Archbishop of York.

One H. Hutton's prefixed commendatory verses to the 1647 edition of Fuller's Holy Warre. (D.N.B.)

(For other Durham Huttons, see p. 123.)

II. MATTHEW of whom presently.

III. ROBERT, D.D., Rector of Houghton-le-Skerne, Co. Durham.

The second son (Matthew) was b. at Priest Hutton, in the Parish of Warton, North Lancashire, 1529. At the age of 17, in 1546, he entered Trin. Coll., Cambridge, of which he became Fellow in 1557. In 1561, he was appointed Regius Professor of Divinity, and in June of the same year he was selected by the Vice-Chancellor one of the twelve preachers to be yearly chosen by the University with the Queen's permission. (In 1564, Queen Elizabeth visited Cambridge.) He was made Dean of York, 1567; Bishop of Durham, 1569; and Archbishop of York, 1594.

He m. thrice; by his first and second wives, Catharine Fulmesby, niece of Dr. Goodricke, Bishop of Ely, m. in 1564, and Beatrice, dr. of Sir Thomas Fincham, Knt. (she d. 1582), he had no issue; by the third wife, Frances, dr. of Sir Martin Bowes, Knt., who d. 10 Aug. 1620, he had two sons,

I. Sir Timothy, his heir, b. 1569; and

II. Sir Thomas, of Popleton, Co. York, d. 1620; and three daughters.

Archbishop Hutton d. 16 Jan. 1605/6, and was buried in York Cathedral, where there is a monument. There is an original portrait of the Archbishop at Marske, Yorks., in possession of his descendants.

The younger son,

SIR THOMAS HUTTON, of Popleton, East Riding of Yorkshire, who d. 1620, had a daughter, Elizabeth, who m. John Robinson, Esq., of Dighton, Co. Yorks., and a son, RICHARD, of Nether Popleton, who m. secondly, Dorothy, dr. of Ferdinando, Viscount Fairfax of Cameron, in Scotland (who d. 1647, and was the father of Thomas, Lord Fairfax, the famous General in command of the Parliamentary Forces who won the Battle of Naseby, 1645).

His third son by this marriage was,

MATTHEW HUTTON, S.T.P., Rector of Aynho, Co. Northants., and an Antiquary. Born in 1639, he died suddenly, 27 June 1711, aged 72. His Epitaph on the N. side of the Chancel of Aynho Church, describes him as “Vita severus, moribus comis, animo simplex”. He was a friend of Anthony a Wood (Biographer and Antiquary, 1632–1695) who speaks of him as an excellent violinist.

He m. Elizabeth, eldest dr. of Sir Roger Burgoyne, Knt., and Baronet (d. 1677), of Sutton, Co. Bedford, by his second wife, Anne, dr. of John Robinson, Esq., of Dighton, Co. York (by his wife Elizabeth, dr. of Sir Thomas Hutton, of Popleton, Knt.); leaving by her two sons, Roger and Thomas.

England's Gazetteer, 1751, says:

“Nether-Popleton, on the east side of Hesley Moor, E.R. Yorks., the seat of Mr. Hutton.”

His elder son and heir,

SIR TIMOTHY HUTTON, b. 1569, purchased the estate of Marske in 1598, and was Sheriff of Co. York in 1605, when he was knighted. By his wife Elizabeth, dr. of Sir George Bowes, of Streatlam, Co. Durham, Knight Marshall, he had three sons and three daughters. (See p. 134.)

I. MATTHEW, his successor, of whom presently.

II. TIMOTHY, bapt. 22 Sept. 1601, a merchant at Leeds, m. Margaret, dr. of Sir John Bennet, Knt.

III. PHILIP, m. Elizabeth, dr. of Thomas Bowes, eighth son of Sir George Bowes, of Streatlam, and had Matthew, Timothy, Thomas, John, Elizabeth and Anne.

Sir Timothy died in 1629, and was buried in St. Mary's Church, Richmond—where there is a splendid monument to his memory. Matthew, his eldest son, of whom presently, “was a noted Royalist, and suffered like many others for his loyalty. The family however eventually recovered their position, and also, by fortunate alliances, added considerably to their wealth and influence.” (Speight's Romantic Richmondshire, p. 202.)

Sir Timothy's eldest son,

MATTHEW HUTTON, Esq., of Marske, b. 22 Oct. 1597, m. at Hornby, Co. York, the seat of the lady's father, 22 April 1617, Barbara, eldest dr. of Sir Conyers D'Arcy, afterwards Lord D'Arcy, and sister of Conyers, first Earl of Holderness, by whom he had two sons and four daughters.

I. JOHN, his heir, b. 6 Sept. 1626, of whom presently.

II. TIMOTHY, twin with his brother.

The elder son, John Hutton of Marske, d. 1663/4 left (with five daughters) by Frances, second dr. of Bryan Stapylton, Esq., of Myton, Co. York, eldest son of Sir Robert Stapylton, of Wighill, Knt., whom he m. in 1651, an only son,

JOHN HUTTON, Esq., of Marske, b. 14 July 1659; m. in 1680, Dorothy, dr. and co-heir of William Dyke, Esq., of Frant in Sussex, and d. Feb. 1730/1, buried 2 March following. This John was "Bowbearer in the New Forest of Arkengarthdale in 1693, and M.P. for Richmond, 1701-2." (Speight, ibid.)

I. JOHN, his heir, of whom presently.

II. MATTHEW, D.D., Archbishop of Canterbury, b. at Marske, 3 Jan. 1692/3; d. 19 March 1758, leaving two daughters. Rector of Trowbridge, 1726-29, he became Bishop of Bangor, 1743; Archbishop of York, 1747, and Primate of All England, 1757.

III. TIMOTHY.

IV. THOMAS, see notes at end.

And 5 daughters.

The eldest son and heir, JOHN HUTTON, Squire of Marske, b. in 1691, m. secondly in 1726, Elizabeth, dr. of James, Lord D'Arcy, of the Kingdom of Ireland, and d. in 1768, leaving three sons.

I. JOHN, his successor, b. 1730—four sons—d. 1782.

II. MATTHEW, b. 1732, d. unm., 1782.

III. JAMES, b. 1739, d. at Aldborough, Co. York, 1798, and left issue a son, JAMES HENRY D'ARCY HUTTON, now of Aldborough (1846).

For later details see Burke's Landed Gentry.

The Sedbergh School Register, 1546-1895, gives the following records of other Huttons related to the Marske Family.

p. 69. Timothy Hutton, b. in Richmondshire. Entered Sedbergh School in period 1610-1616. Entered St. John's College, Cambridge, in 1616; elected a Fellow of the College on the Lupton Foundation in 1622; Taxor at Cambridge in 1637. He was probably the son of Samuel Hutton, Prebendary of York, nephew of Archbishop Hutton (p. 122). He was Incumbent at St. Giles's, Cripplegate in 1641, and was still there in 1672.

p. 71. John Hutton, b. in Richmondshire. Entered Sedbergh School in 1623-4. Entered St. John's College, Cambridge, in 1624. He was probably the fifth son of Sir Timothy Hutton of Marske, and is described as a "scholar" in the family pedigree. Buried at Marske, Aug. 7, 1638.

GEORGE HUTTON, also from Co. Durham, was born at Gainsford, Durham, 1620, son of Robert Hutton, of Gainsford. Entering Sedbergh School between 1630 and 1636, he was admitted to St. John's College, Cambridge, in 1636, aged 16; elected Fellow of the College in 1641. (Sedbergh School Register.)

CHARLES HUTTON, LL.D., F.R.S. (1737–1823), Mathematician, b. 14 Aug. 1737, in Percy Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne, youngest son of a colliery labourer, who d. when Charles was 5 years old. He worked for a short time as a “hewer” in a pit at Long Benton, where his step-father was foreman; but having acquired a taste for books, it was decided that teaching was his proper occupation, and at the age of 18 he replaced the late schoolmaster, the Rev. Mr. Ivison, at the village of Jesmond. In 1760 he opened a Mathematical School in Newcastle. In 1773 he was appointed, after a competitive examination lasting several days, Professor of Mathematics at the Royal Academy, Woolwich, and on 16 June 1774, was admitted F.R.S.

In 1796 he published his Mathematical and Philosophical Dictionary; and in 1798 his Course of Mathematics.

He resigned his professorship in 1807, after 34 years' service and retired to Bedford Row, London.

He died 27 Jan. 1823, and was buried in the family vault at Charlton, Kent. He was twice married.

Two daughters and a son survived him. The second dr. married Henry Vignolles, Capt. of the 43rd Regt., and with her husband and child died of yellow fever in June 1794 at Guadeloupe, where all were prisoners of war.

GEORGE HENRY HUTTON (d. 1827), Hutton's only son, rose from the rank of 2nd Lieut. in the Royal Artillery in 1777, to that of Lieut.-General in 1821. (Career given in the Dict. Nat. Biog.)

He died at Moate, near Athlone, on 28 June 1827.

He married twice. (Gent. Mag. 1827, pt. ii, p. 561.) His son Henry by his second marriage was Rector of St. Paul's, Covent Garden, from 1848 till his death on June 23 1863, at the age of 54.

WILLIAM HUTTON (1798–1860), F.G.S., Geologist; b. in 1798, near Sunderland, settled at Newcastle-on-Tyne at an early age. He left in 1846 and settled in Malta, returning to Newcastle in 1857, and afterwards moved to West Hartlepool, where he d. 20 Nov. 1860. Portrait by Carrick, in the possession of the N. of England Inst. of Mining and Mechanical Engineers at Newcastle.

LINEAGE

This highly respectable family has long been seated in Lincolnshire.

THOMAS HUTTON, Esq., b. in 1690, son of Thos. Hutton, of Treswell, by Mary, his wife, dr. of Joshua Cooper, and 4th in descent from THOMAS HOWTON, of Headon, owner of land in Treswell, Notts (A.D. 1612), married Elizabeth, dr. of John Rayner, Esq., and d. in 1740, leaving issue, etc., for which see Burke's Landed Gentry.

OTHER FAMILIES OF HUTTON
Mentioned in the "Dict. Nat. Biography"

ROBERT HUTTON or HUTTEN, d. 1568, divine, was for some time at Pembroke Hall, Cambridge. Dr. William Turner, then Fellow of Pembroke, says that Hutton was his servant there; he was probably Turner's scholar as well as servant, but does not appear to have taken any degree. During the reign of Mary he went abroad to escape persecution. Some time in Elizabeth's reign he was made Rector of Little Braxted in Essex, and on 9th of April 1560 became Rector of Wickam Bishops in the same county. These preferments, together with the Vicarage of Catterick in Yorkshire, he held until his death in 1568.

JOHN HUTTON, M.D., F.R.S. (d. 1712). Physician to King William and Queen Anne, was a native of Caerlaverock, Dumfriesshire. He began life as a herd-boy to the Episcopalian Minister of that parish. Through his master's kindness he received a good education, and became a physician, graduating at Padua.

He chanced to be the nearest doctor at hand when the Princess Mary of Orange met with a fall from her horse in Holland, and thus gained the regard of Prince William, who, on ascending the Throne in 1689, appointed him as First Physician. As such Hutton was admitted as Fellow of the College of Physicians on 30 Sept. 1690, when he presented the College with a sum of money, and intimated that he hoped to be able to repeat his generosity. He was incorporated M.D., Oxford, 9 Nov. 1695, and was elected F.R.S. 30 Nov. 1697.

Queen Anne continued him in his place as First Physician. In 1710 he was elected M.P. for Dumfries Burghs, and sat until his death in 1712. He was apparently buried in Somerset House Chapel. Will dated 13 Aug. and 2 Sept. 1712, proved in the following December, describes himself as living in the Parish of St. Clement's, Westminster. (P.C.C., 236 Barnes.)

JAMES HUTTON (1715–1795), an active Moravian Leader, who may be called the founder of the Moravian Church in England, was the son of Rev. John Hutton, by Elizabeth Ayscough, and was born in London, 3 Sept. 1715. His father, a non-juring clergyman and a friend of Dr. Burney, resided in College Street, Westminster, where he took in Westminster boys to board. James Hutton was educated at Westminster. Among his friends or acquaintances, were the Wesleys, George III, the Queen and Dr. Franklin.

In 1740 Hutton's society met at the Fetter Lane Chapel. He married at Marrenborn, 3 July 1740, Louise Brandt, a Swiss Moravian, but left no family.

He died 3 May 1795, at Oxted Cottage, near Godstone, Surrey, where he lived for nearly two years with the Misses Biscoe and Shelly; and was interred in the burial ground adjoining the chapel at Chelsea.

Portrait, with his ear-trumpet, by Cosway, engraved in mezzo-tint by J. R. Smith, 1786.

Another engraving by W. Wickes, prefixed to Benham's Memoir.

JAMES HUTTON (1726–1797), Geologist and natural philosopher, son of William Hutton, merchant and City Treasurer of Edinburgh, b. at Edinburgh, 3 June 1726, quitted the legal profession for that of medicine, which he studied in Edinburgh, Paris and Leyden, becoming M.D., Leyden, Sept. 1749. He returned to Edinburgh in 1750, and gave up the idea of medical practice, and applied himself to agriculture. In 1752 he went to live with a Norfolk farmer, John Dybold, to learn practical farming, and settled on a farm of his own in Berwickshire, journeying into different parts of England to study agriculture, during which journeys he began to study mineralogy and geology. He is chiefly distinguished as the author of a Theory of Geology, termed the Plutonian, by which the structure of the solid parts of the earth is attributed to the action of fire.

He ranks as the first great British Geologist.

He died 26 March 1797, in his 71st year. He never married, but lived with three unmarried sisters, of whom only one, Isabella, survived him.

Portrait, by Raeburn, painted for John Davidson, of Stewartfield.

WILLIAM HUTTON (1723–1815), local Historian and Topographer of Birmingham, opened in 1750, a shop for the sale of old books, to which he added a Circulating Library, at Birmingham; where he succeeded so well that he embarked in the paper business. In 1791, his house at Birmingham, and villa near that town were destroyed by the rioters. He wrote several works, among which were the Histories of Birmingham, Derby, Blackpool, and the Battle of Bosworth Field, Poems, The Court of Requests, etc.

He was the second son of William Hutton, woolcomber (b. 25 July 1691, d. 13 Dec. 1758), by his first wife, Anne (d. 9 March 1733, aged 41), dr. of Matthew Ward, of Mountsorrel, Leicestershire. He was born 30 Sept. 1723, in Full Street, Derby. He had a sister Catharine, by whose intelligent sympathy he was much cheered in his work, circa 1749.

He traced his descent from Thomas Hutton (1586–1656), a hatter at Northallerton, N.R. Yorks.

(It is interesting to note that the Northallerton Huttons still flourish; according to Walford's County Families, John Hutton, Esq., of Solberghe, near Northallerton, m. Caroline, 2nd dr. of Thomas Robson, Esq., of Holtby House, Co. York, and died 1857, leaving a son and heir,

I. John, M.P. for Northallerton, 1868–74; J.P. and D.L.; b. 1847, who m. 1870, the Hon. Caroline, eldest dr. of Charles John, 2nd Lord Teignmouth, and has surv. issue, John Ernest, b. 1877.

II. Robert (who assumed the additional name of -Squire, Hutton-Squire, on succeeding to the property of his great-aunt, in 1869), of Holtby, Co. York; b. 1848, m. 1874, Catharine Louisa Lucy, only dr. of Rev. John Lawrence Prior, Rector of Horton, and has with other issue, a son, John Redmond, b. 1874.)

The characteristics of his ancestors, he says, were “honesty and supineness”; they were Non-Conformists from the days of John Hooper, Bishop of Gloucester (burnt as an “obstinate heretic” by Queen Mary, 1555.)

His father failed in 1725, and became a journeyman, remarrying, after his first wife's death in 1743, and again in 1752.

William Hutton, the Historian, married 23 June 1755, Sarah (b. 11 March 1731, d. 23 Jan. 1769), dr. of John Cock, of Ashton-upon-Trent, Co. Derby, and had issue,

1. Catharine, b. 11 Feb. 1756, only dr., and surv. child, wrote on miscellaneous subjects and d. 1846.

2. Thomas, b. 17 Feb. 1757. Married 5 Sept. 1793 Mary Reynolds, of Shifnal, Shropshire, died, s.p. 10 Aug. 1845.

3. William, b. 2 July 1758, d. May 1760.

4. William, b. 20 May 1760, d. 3 April 1767.

In 1793, he handed over his business to his son Thomas. He died 20 Sept. 1815.

ADDITIONAL NOTES

Extracts from Kirby Overblow Register

First mention of the name Hutton on 20 Sept. 1666, when Thomas Hutton was married to Elizabeth Marshall, but Stainburn not named.

5 May 1670, Richard Stead married to Mary Hutton. No mention of Stainburn.

First mention of Hutton of Stainburn 1713, when Thomas, son of William Hutton, was christened May 6th.

1713, Elizabeth Hutton, widow, was buried on Oct. 19th at Stainburn.

After this date the name Hutton of Stainburn occurs frequently.

The preservation of the stained glass in York Minster is probably owing to the fact that Lord Fairfax, the celebrated General of Cromwell's Army, was connected with Yorkshire, and with the Yorkshire Family of Huttons. (See p. 117.)

Notes from Major Charles Molyneux Hutton of Beetham, grandson of the Rev. William Hutton b. 1737, who married Lucy Molyneux. (See Hutton of Overthwaite.)

List of Sheriffs of Cumberland of Manor Hutton:

Henry VII. 20th: Hugh Hutton, of Hutton John.

Henry VIII. 26th: Cuthbert Hutton.

James I. 2nd: William Hutton, of Penrith.

— 3rd: William Hutton.

— 14th: Richard Hitcher, of Hutton.

Charles II. 6th: Andrew Hodleston, of Hutton John.

Anne. 8th: Richard Hutton.

— 11th: John Gasgarth, of Hill Top.

George III. 28th: Frederick Fletcher Vane, Bart., of Hutton Hall.

George II. 15th: John Fletcher, of Hutton Hall.
George Fletcher, of Hutton.

The Manor of Hutton Hall, within the precincts of Penrith, belonged to the Family of Hutton from temp. Edward I A.D. 1272 (Adam de Hoton then holding it) to A.D. 1800, when Dr. Addison Hutton, the last possessor of it of the name of Hutton, dying s.p., it passed to Mr. Gasgarth, and since to the Earl of Lonsdale.

The Huttons of Overthwaite and Beetham, Westmoreland, branched off from the Family of Hutton Hall in the person of Thomas Hutton (the first of Overthwaite) younger son of John Hutton and his wife Eliza, dr. and co-heiress of T. Beauchamp, Esq., of Croglin. He died at Overthwaite in 1588, aged 80.

The last Hutton of Overthwaite is William James, who sold the property, except the dwelling-house at Beetham. With him the family disappears from Burke's Landed Gentry between 1876 and 1880.

There are a number of places with Hutton as part of the name in Yorkshire:

Hutton Conyers (just north of Ripon).
 Hutton Bushel (near Whitby).
 Hutton Lowcross (near Guisbrough).
 Hutton Rudley (near Whitby).
 Hutton Cranswick (in the East Riding).
 Sheriff Hutton (in the North Riding).

Hunwick in Durham (see p. 123, "References to other Durham Huttons") is three miles from Bishop Auckland. Over a window in Hunwick Hall are the initials R.H., "probably denoting Richard Hoton or Hutton, to whose family the estate belonged for over 200 years, until 1615 at least."

(Little Guides, "Durham", by J. E. Hodgkins, p. 167.)

Popleton (see Sir Thomas Hutton of Popleton, p. 117) is not to be found in the East Riding Guide Book, but there are both Upper and Nether Poppleton close to York and in the West Riding. In Nether Poppleton Church “on the N. of the chancel—coloured bust of a lady in prayer. Below is a brass inscription to Lady Anne Hutton (Benet) d. 1651.”

(Little Guides, “W.R. of Yorks.”, by J. E. Morris, p. 393.)
